LIVING IN CAPE COAST

Cape Coast Slave Castle

Kakum Canopy Walkway

Cape Coast Fetu Afahye

Cape Coast ('Oguaa' in the local Fanti dialect) was the first capital of the Gold Coast (present-day Ghana) until it was moved to Accra in 1877. Situated along the Atlantic Ocean, Cape Coast is the cradle of education in West Africa as it houses some of the oldest and best-performing senior high schools in the country.

The Chiefs and people of Cape Coast celebrate Fetu Afahye in the first week of September. This annual festival is one of the most popular tourist attractions in the country.

With its rich culture and historical monuments, Cape Coast is an attractive destination with numerous beaches and resorts. It is an amazing experience to visit the Kakum National Rain Forest with its famous Canopy Walkway as well as World Heritage sites such as the Cape Coast and the Elmina Slave Castles.
